◀ PASTA PARTY

Cook for a crowd with these vintage-style enamel-on-steel pieces with chip-resistant stainless-steel rims.

Paula Deen Signature 12-quart stockpot, $40; colander, $25; Meyer Corp.; 800/214-8369; meyer.com

▲ FRENCH FAVORITES

Made in France since 1945, enameled cast iron distributes heat slowly and evenly. Dijon is one of seven colors. Enameled cast iron, $550 for a six-piece set (also sold open stock); Le Creuset; 877/273-8738; lecreuset.com

▶ PUT A LID ON IT

A honeycomb bottom makes this stainless-steel pan perfect for grilling and frying. The optional spatter shield clips neatly on the handle to keep your cooktop clean. Crispy Steelux Premium skillet, $130-$150 (spatter shield, $45); Fissler USA; 888/347-7537; fisslerusa.com

▲ PERFECT FOR POTLUCKS

Heavy, Swiss-made 18/10 stainless-steel casseroles in three sizes come with a melamine serving shell that keeps food hot for up to two hours. The shell also works as a separate bowl. HotPan, 3-quart shown, $149; Kuhn Rikon; 800/662-5882; kuhnricon.com

◀ EASY-CLEAN GRILL

This cast-aluminum 10½-inch pan with a nonstick coating distributes heat evenly and efficiently. Remove the soft-grip handle for storage. Each piece contains 30 percent recycled aluminum.

Square grill pan, $60; Fagor America; 800/207-0806; fagoramerica.com

▲ STOVETOP TO TABLE

One of four Urban colors, Figue updates classic ceramic shapes. It goes from oven or range straight to the table.

Flame braiser, $140; Emile Henry USA; 888/346-8853; emilehenryusa.com
