Fagor America, known as a trendsetter and leader in the consumer cookware category for many years, has introduced the 15 Piece Multifunctional Cookware Set.

Who says you can't have a high quality cookware set because your galley or kitchen space is limited? Commercial Multifunctional cookware by Fagor offers the perfect solution to RV owners, boaters and campers, as well as college students and apartment dwellers. No longer will you have to settle for a less than ideal solution when shopping for cookware that meets your kitchen's space requirements.

Convenient, easy and versatile perfectly describe this distinctive and exclusive cookware set, whose contemporary features are quite unique. What truly makes this set stand apart from other cookware is how much space it can save in the kitchen. Specially designed for consumers with limited storage space, the cookware sets' multifunctional design reduces kitchen clutter and replaces the traditional cookware set with a sleek, compact design. The set includes: 1, 1.5 & 2.5 qt sauce pans, a 4 qt Dutch oven, 4 metal strainer lids, 2 detachable handles, a 10" non-stick frying pan and 4 plastic lids, each of which store inside one another for maximum space saving benefits. The pots all nest tidily, and the set altogether requires about a cubic foot of cupboard space. Made of 18/10 stainless steel with an aluminum-encapsulated base, this set is also perfect for everyday household use, as well as an ideal solution for boat and recreational vehicle kitchens with very limited storage space.

"This cookware set has been designed to be the most convenient and easy to use cookware set ever developed," said Patricio Barriga, President of Fagor America. "Once consumers see all the features and functions of this set for themselves, it will be clear that this set is truly in a class by itself and the next generation of cookware."

The secret behind this unique space-saving design is the two detachable handles that can easily be attached or removed to accommodate the user. The handles are made of a heat resistant plastic that is sturdy and easy to clean. The lids for each saucepan, also made of 18/10 stainless steel, feature holes that allow them to double as a strainer and easily discard unwanted cooking liquid from your food. And, in addition to metal lids, the set comes with four plastic lids for easy and convenient storage straight from the stove to the refrigerator.

"There is nothing like this Cookware set on the market today," said Barriga. "I believe it has the potential to create an entirely new cookware category."
